

Charlotte Salomon Paints Her Life: A Novel

Charlotte Salomon Paints Her Life: A Novel

BY PAMELA REITMAN
FICTION

PUB DATE: April 15, 2025

TRADE PAPER:

Page Count: 392

9781960573919 | $22

EBOOK:

9781960573209 | $9.99

Inspired by the life and work of Charlotte Salomon, this novel shows an artist intent on pursuing her art against all odds.

As a young German-Jewish art student at The Berlin Art Academy during Hitler's rise to power in 1938, Charlotte's first place prize is denied because she is a Jew, her enrollment annulled. After Kristallnacht, she is sent from Berlin into exile with her grandparents.

When Charlotte's grandmother leaps to her death, her Old World grandfather shocks her with the family secret, a legacy of female suicides. She struggles against her grandfather's insistence that suicide, not art, is her destiny too.

Haunted by the encroaching terror of the Third Reich and the threat of psychological disintegration, Charlotte clings to her determination to become a serious modernist painter, to complete her monumental work "Life? Or Theater?" and get into safekeeping in a race against time before capture by the Nazis.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Pamela Reitman is an award-winning writer with numerous publications in literary journals, news outlets, and magazines. She has a B.A. cum laude in English from Columbia and an MPH from the University of California Berkeley. She is retired from a career in public health and community service aimed at reducing the stigma of mental illness. Ms. Reitman was a past Director of Makor Or: A Jewish Meditation Center in San Francisco. She is lay ordained in the Soto Zen Buddhist tradition. She lives in Northern California with her husband.

Sibylline
P R E S S

Sibylline Press • Publishing the work of brilliant women over 50 • sibyllinepress.com

AN IMPRINT OF ALL THINGS BOOK, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES | DISTRIBUTED TO THE TRADE BY PUBLISHERS GROUP WEST

CONTACTS

Vicki DeArmon, Publisher (marketing partnerships and events), vicki@sibyllinepress.com

Anna Termine, Rights, Licensing & Special Sales Director, rights@sibyllinepress.com